Everyone Deserves to Breathe Clean Air

100% of homeowners who had an AirAdvice home test said they would highly recommend it to others. Indoor Air Quality (IAQ) should be a concern for everyone. After all, fifty percent of homes have someone who has allergies or asthma—and in addition, children and elderly are at greatest risk of respiratory diseases!

The Air Advice monitor is a small, automated device that can read your home environment. It can identify and measure:

- dust and airborne particles
- carbon dioxide
- pollutants
- temperature fluctuations
- humidity
- heating/cooling efficiency

Your results come in the form of a full color booklet with suggestions for your house's unique needs.

Present this coupon and receive $50 off an AirAdvice test for your home.

Then comes your chance to pass the good word along – you can tell others:

I know my IAQ...do you?
